Colorectal cancer screening: No good reason to put it off.

Mary Carneval, DO
Cleveland Clinic
South Pointe Hospital

Everyone knows that colonoscopies are a tool to detect colorectal cancer – the second leading cause of cancer-related deaths among men and the third leading cause among women in the United States.

According to Mary Carneval, DO, a gastroenterologist at Cleveland Clinic South Pointe Hospital, colonoscopy is known as the gold standard – the best, most accurate test to screen for colorectal cancer. Since most cancers start as polyps, cancer can be prevented when polyps are removed during a colonoscopy.

New preps are easier to swallow.

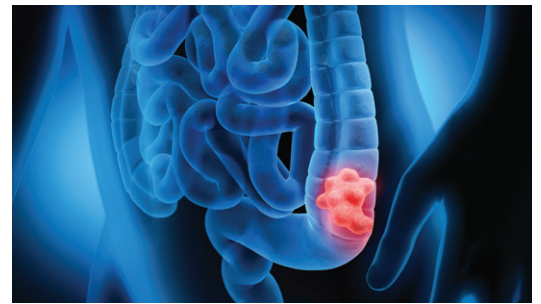

You may be concerned about unpleasantness and inconvenience as you prepare for the exam. But it's time to stop worrying – the prep process is much easier these days. It tastes better, you don't have to take as much as you did before, and the timing has also changed to make it easier for patients.

Concerned about coronavirus?

While the coronavirus is still in our communities and is still contagious, Cleveland Clinic is among the safest places in healthcare today.

For your safety and those around you, we have taken the following steps:

- Limited and screened visitors.
- Continued extensive cleaning.
- Required masks for our caregivers.

We ask that you help us maintain a safe environment by:

- Practicing social and physical distancing.
- Wearing a mask while in our facilities.
- Washing and sanitizing your hands properly.

As we welcome all patients back for regular, routine care, we will continue making your safety a top concern.

Shaky hands? Don't jump to conclusions about tremors.

Xin Xin Yu, MD
Cleveland Clinic
Hillcrest Hospital

Shaking and tremor in older adults often brings thoughts of Parkinson's disease, a chronic movement disorder that can lead to other problems. If you or a loved one experiences shaking, don't jump to conclusions.

nonetheless can be troublesome to your daily activities. Your doctor can look for underlying causes. Once the cause of an action tremor is identified, doctors can treat it.

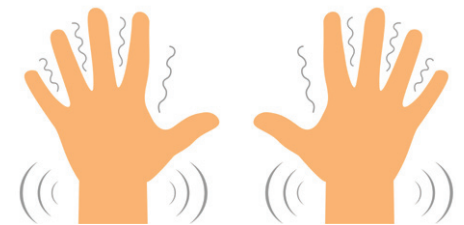

Resting tremors – that occur when hands are at rest – may be a sign of Parkinson's disease or other neurological conditions. If a resting tremor develops suddenly or worsens over time, see a doctor right away.

Some tremors run in families.

Some people are predisposed to develop shakiness as they get older. If your parents had age-related shakiness, you're more likely to have it too.

Knowing tremor triggers is important.

Anxiety, stress, fatigue, low blood sugar or too much caffeine can cause or worsen a tremor.

So can many drugs. Talk to your doctor if you suspect a prescription is causing the tremor.

A range of treatments is available.

Treatments range from medications to high-frequency ultrasound ablation to deep brain stimulation.

The sooner you seek help, the better.

Whether shaking is occasional or constant, it's best to share your concerns with your doctor.

If it turns out there's no serious cause for concern, you'll have peace of mind – and that's priceless.

To schedule an appointment with Dr. Yu or another physician in Cleveland Clinic's Center for Neurological Restoration, visit ClevelandClinic.org/NeuroRestoration or call 216.636.5860.

Our goal remains the same – we care for everyone. And safety is our top priority.

Don't delay your care. From extra safety measures at all locations to virtual visits, we're here for you every day.

Dear Neighbors

Mayor
Patrick A. Ward

When the calendar page turned to 2021, I think I heard a sigh of relief; there is hope and the anticipation of some normalcy to come. Vaccine is fast becoming reality and there are daily positive developments in that regard. There is talk that our little community can start to actually commune again and we are planning accordingly.

The gut-punch delivered by the pandemic took our breath away, but we saw the generosity of our residents reach out, in ways great and small, to make a difference. Many factors have kept us operating; anchored by the efforts of our City employees who have come to work daily allowing us to deliver every needed service to our residents.

As I write we are making plans for summer concerts in the park and other community events that we can host safely. Our pool and spray park will be open, and we await Board of Health guidance on how those facilities should operate. There are details in this issue of Lyndhurst Life and the latest information can always be found on the City's website. The Home Day Committee is also working on plans for this year's awesome celebration so stay tuned for more information on that.

"Shop Local – Shop Lyndhurst" continues to be a Community focus as we look to support our area restaurants and retailers who contribute in so many ways to the health of our community. The City website now features a Local Business Directory where our stores, restaurants and home-based service providers can be listed with easy links to their online presence.

We have a wonderful array of musical artists scheduled for our three mid-month Wednesday Concerts in the Park – June 16, July 21 and August 18 – and City Council has legislated that attendees may consume beer and wine at those three events. So, plan to bring your picnic dinner, enjoy your neighbors, music and a sip of your favorite beverage and we will provide the ice cream!

Plans have been made to hold our second State of the City address which will be virtual and broadcast on the City's Facebook page. This will follow the regular Council meeting on Monday, May 17th.

As always we are ready to serve you in any way possible. Stay safe, stay healthy and I hope to see you soon!

Sincerely,

Patrick A. Ward

Outdoor Fire Safety

As the weather begins to warm many people, tired of the winter's confinement, will be turning to outdoor activities. Some of these activities may include outdoor grilling and recreational fires. The Lyndhurst Fire Department wants to remind our residents to exercise caution when disposing of coals or ashes from grills, fire pits or outdoor fireplaces. We have had several fires in refuse trucks and one serious house fire last year caused by coals that appeared to have cooled.

Hot embers can hide in an ash bed long after the fire has seemingly burned out. It's crucial to be sure that the fire has completely cooled before you attempt to remove the ashes. It's advised that you wait at least 24 hours after the fire has been extinguished to remove the ashes.

Use caution in selecting the location of any grill or outdoor fireplace. Outdoor fireplaces should be a minimum of 15 feet from any structure and a portable fire extinguisher or a water hose should be nearby. Never leave outdoor fires unattended. The material used for outdoor fires should be dry, seasoned natural wood. Using wet or green wood can cause excessive smoke and irritate neighbors. Construction debris, treated lumber or excess landscape material should not be used as those fumes could be noxious.

Always treat your fire ashes as if they could still be hot. Remove them using a metal shovel and place them inside a metal container with a lid. Ensure that the container is not near any other combustible materials. Pour a little water over the ashes in the can to ensure there's no risk of fire. Place the lid on the can. Avoid using plastic or cardboard containers. Once the ashes have been allowed to cool for several days, it is safe to assume they are completely cooled and can be disposed of. You can bag them and throw them away with your regular garbage.

We hope that all our residents have a safe and enjoyable Summer!

Yes You Can – Recycle with greater purpose!

Recycle and Support Pediatric Burn Survivors

We all know how great recycling is for our environment and that our community is supportive of the Lyndhurst Recycling programs. Well there is an easy way to do right by our environment AND support a great organization that helps children! You can help both by recycling your aluminum cans at the Lyndhurst Fire Station!

Aluminum Cans for Burned Children (ACBC) is a 30 year old nonprofit organization founded by fire fighters, their unions and fire chiefs in partnership with the MetroHealth Burn Care Center that recycles an average of 75,000 pounds of beverage cans each year at 90 fire station drop-offs across Northeast Ohio. That is 2.6 million cans diverted from landfills annually!!

The proceeds from the recycled metal supports programs that create dignity, community, and opportunities for pediatric burn survivors. ACBC also works with local fire departments and schools in cities like Lyndhurst to provide fire education for more than 3,000 area schoolchildren.

"Our can collections are at a record high in spite of the pandemic while we've had to be creative in the past year with our programming," states Helen Jones-Toms, ACBC executive director. "Instead of having our full Camp Phoenix with 40 children age 6 and over for a long weekend, we've hosted smaller retreats for our older campers and sent 'camp-in-a-box' to the homes of our younger ones. But there's absolutely no substitute for the in-person experience."

Former camp-participant-turned-counselor Chrissy A. agrees, "Camp gave me a sense of belonging and a break from the outside world. I got a chance to overcome what I did not think I could. I felt stronger when I was there with everyone else."

To support these efforts and more, the City of Lyndhurst recently expanded its ACBC collection area as part of the Fire Department renovations. The new bins are located next to the fire station's main back doors. "We are thrilled to partner with a great organization like ACBC," explains Lyndhurst Mayor Patrick A. Ward. "Such a simple act of bringing your bagged cans to the station can do a world of good for so many."

DOORDASH

From the Desk of Patrick A. Rhode, Chief of Police

Cars, motorcycles, bicyclists, pedestrians, oh my..!

April is Distracted Driving Awareness Month. Spring officially sprung in the Northern Hemisphere Saturday, March 20. Outdoor activities are already picking up and there will certainly be an increase in vehicular, bicycle, and pedestrian traffic. Motorists are reminded to watch for these increases and avoid distracted driving at all times.

Distracted driving defines any activity that could divert a person's attention away from the primary task of driving. The four types of distractions are visual – looking at something other than the road; auditory – hearing something not related to driving; manual – manipulating something other than the steering wheel; and cognitive – thinking about something other than driving. Each day in the United States, approximately nine people are killed and more than 1,000 injured in crashes that are reported to involve a distracted driver.

These types of distractions can include any of the following:

- Texting • Using a cell phone or smartphone
- Eating and drinking • Talking to passengers
- Grooming • Reading, including maps
- Setting your navigation system • Watching a video
- Adjusting a radio, CD player, or MP3 player

Texting behind the wheel tops what seems like an endless list of distractions. Because text messaging requires the visual, manual, and cognitive attention of the driver, it is by far the most alarming and dangerous distraction. According to the National Safety Council, drivers using cell phones cause an estimated one in four crashes. It may take only a matter of seconds to glance at your phone, but, if you are driving at 60 miles an hour, your eyes were blind to the road while you drove the length of a football field. Make no mistake, driving distracted includes drivers of all ages...not just young drivers. Whether you take your eyes off the road or your hands off the wheel, all types of distracted driving increases your risk of car crashes, major injuries, and even death.

The City of Lyndhurst along with other communities in the area have a NOTEXTING LAW or similar ordinances restricting the use of cell phones to reduce the dangers of these forms of distracted driving, which absolutely includes hands-free devices. The Lyndhurst Police Department continues to make traffic safety a priority and seeks to put a high premium on distracted driving violations. The safest use of a cell phone in a vehicle is done when you are off the roadway and parked. You may prevent a serious crash and/or avoid a hefty fine.

Don't let a distracted mind steer you into danger. Remember – on the road, off the phone! Please don't text and drive.

Training To Be Better

21st century policing reforms demand that law enforcement agencies continually evolve their training and response to people in crisis and those with mental health issues. When it comes to mental health services, the reality is that police officers are often the de-facto first responders to people in crisis. This is no different for our very own Lyndhurst Police Officers, and we often find ourselves in these situations. It is imperative that we develop tactics that allow us to deescalate such situations and gain insight into the proper perspective when dealing with people in crisis.

In order to mitigate less than ideal – or tragic – encounters between officers and people in crisis or those suffering mental health issues, the men and women of the Lyndhurst Police Department are engaging in two training programs that focus on drawing upon a different mindset and different skillset than many other types of responses...including use of force responses. It is important that we continually educate our officers in tactics that minimize harm and enhance officer safety. This year's programs are Crisis Intervention Team Training and Procedural Justice Training: Deescalation and Confronting Racial Bias.

Crisis Intervention Team Training (CIT) is a 40-hour block of instruction in which all sworn Lyndhurst Police Officers will participate. All Communications Officers will participate in an eight-hour version of that training. The training provides updated information to officers on engaging and communicating with people in crisis. It covers a review of mental illnesses and substance use disorders; use of the emergency certificate (known as a "Pink Slip"); an overview of the new Cuyahoga County Diversion Center and participation in scenario-based activities to demonstrate proficiency in the techniques and skills learned during the weeklong course of instruction. Upon completion of the training, officers will receive a certificate of attendance.

Procedural Justice Training: Crisis Deescalation and Confronting Racial Bias explores the processes officers can use to treat citizens fairly and respectfully while strengthening the Department's community relationships. Officers will learn techniques for creating an organizational culture that fosters a partnership with the public, leading to a safer work environment.

All sworn Lyndhurst Police Officers (to include our School Resource Officers/Community Relations Liaisons) will participate in four training modules along with a hands-on, scenario-based training session to practice the skills and techniques learned in the previous training modules. All participants will receive a certificate of training upon completion of the training.

The training modules encompass the following:

- Blue Courage: The Heart and Mind of the Guardian – highlights the importance of respect, service, justice, and fundamental fairness in policing.
- Law Enforcement's Role in Mass Gatherings, Protests, and Riots – presents standard procedure for managing emergency operations during these events (1st Amendment rights, enforcing the law while protecting rights, and supervision of such events).
- Bias-Free Policing – promotes the understanding of implicit and explicit biases and how they can be mitigated for successful policing.
- Police Reform – challenges law enforcement officers to assess their intellectual and emotional transition from the police academy to their current position.
- Profiles of People in Crisis – raises awareness of challenges that arise when interacting with people in crisis, particularly behavioral health issues that can impact law enforcement response.
- Communication and Deescalation: Gaining Compliance – provides an overview and basic understanding of factors that impact an officer's ability to gain compliance during a tense encounter.

It is with high expectation that by participating in these training programs, the men and women of the Lyndhurst Police Department will add new tools to their tool belts, thus allowing for a wider range of responses when dealing with people in crisis and the diverse groups within our community.

National Night Out

Mark your calendars for National Night Out, scheduled for Tuesday, August 3, 2021. As we all know, last year's event was cancelled due to the COVID-19 pandemic. There appears to be a light at the end of the pandemic tunnel and we are making plans to move forward with this event in 2021 (as long as national, state, and local guidelines allow for such events). Stay tuned for further details!

Dear Lyndhurst Community,

Linda N. Reid

As the community is aware, students and staff in the SEL Schools have experienced the most unprecedented time in the history of public education. Despite various challenges and complexities, our SEL Schools family has persevered with determination and success. On behalf of the Board of Education and everyone in the SEL Schools, the District extends its gratitude to the families in our community, for their continued support and flexibility over the last twelve months. Our students and staff have made major strides during the pandemic. In fact, blending traditional classroom assignments with use of enhanced technology and innovation, including the Google Classroom suite, Schoology and other online learning platforms, has provided an added learning experience.

The return to in-person learning on January 11 has been smooth, safe and successful. District leaders analyzed data, listened to the guidance of Governor Mike DeWine and other public health professionals at the state and national level and educational leaders, who agreed that in-person learning maximizes a child's educational experience. One measure to keep the school environment safe was the staff's participation in the Pfizer vaccine. Our staff receiving the vaccine demonstrated another critical step forward in safeguarding those responsible for providing a sound education to our students. We extend our gratitude to the Educational Services Center of Cuyahoga County for their coordination and Giant Eagle for the administration of the vaccines. Their facilitation was superb!

Navigating the waters of the pandemic has compelled District leaders to rely upon, and in some cases pivot from the SEL Schools Strategic Plan. While the plan called for a push forward with various areas of learning and facilities upgrades at all levels of education from grades pre-K through 12, the unexpected nuances of the pandemic forced us to look more stringently at certain areas. Some aspects of the plan had to be put firmly on hold. Some aspects of the plan had to be accelerated. Others still, remain officially in-progress. Having a plan allowed District leaders to make decisions quickly, and from a point of pre-planned frame of reference.

In other news, major renovations have taken place over the last several months to upgrade and enhance the overall student experience at Charles F. Brush High School. Some of the upgrades include a completely refurbished common area, seating, natural light, a safe security desk upon entry, new lighting, and wall furnishings. Media center enhancements include new space for student small group collaboration, ADA compliance, new lighting, presentation spaces and more. A Maker Space area allows students to become equipped with 3D printing skills, laser engraver technology and to participate in a video room complete with a green screen. The one-of-kind Innovation Lab showcases tools such as an embroidery machine, state-of-the-art computerized drill presses and more. The Board of Education and community members have recently had the chance to tour the brand-new East Gym, new locker rooms and enhanced dining area for students. Throughout the hallways, Brush High School branding, student artwork, wayfinding, signage, seating for collaboration, and more, has been furnished, all while keeping the historical charm and character of the iconic external façade intact.

Finally, as spring temperatures arrive, SEL Schools District leaders are making every effort to offer traditional year-end activities, especially for graduating seniors, in the safest and most compliant manner possible. Currently, Brush High School is planning to conduct Commencement on Wednesday, June 9 at 7 p.m. outside on Korb Field. More information on the efforts to keep spring year-end ceremonies as normal as possible will be forthcoming. As always, thank you for your continued support of the SEL Schools. Go Arcs!

Hugh Sunderland's, Irene Road Neighborhood

Back in 1990, I had asked Hugh Sunderland, a lifelong resident of Lyndhurst, to write a story about "old" Lyndhurst. At the time, I was writing historic Lyndhurst articles for the Mayor's newsletter, Lyndhurst Crossroads and had wanted an "old-timer's" recollections, from the generation before me. Hugh was fond of saying, "There are times when I wished Irene road was like it used to be."

So, he graciously gifted me this photograph of his house, which still stands at 1268 Irene Road. He took the photo in 1926, on a chilly, spring day. The large house seen in the background, is on Spencer Road, facing north. Hugh, passed to the ages in 2002, at the age of 88. His daughter Carol, my childhood friend, along with most of his family are gone too. As a historian, I appreciate that I can pass his story on to all of you in 2021. Thomas S. Treer, Lyndhurst historian, Brush '65.

My Mother and I moved into our new house on Irene road, the week before Christmas, 1925. It cost $4000.00 to build, on the lot which cost $500.00 and was purchased from a man named Whitey McGruder, who owned a string of lots starting at Spencer and running south. At that time there were eleven houses on Irene road, ours was number 12.

The road was not paved but there were sidewalks and city water. There were no sewers yet so all the houses had septic tanks. In the winter, the road became a quagmire, so the people on Irene who owned automobiles would park them at the end of Spencer, as it was paved. Often during the winter, some unsuspecting soul would get stuck. When that happened a Mr. Marnett, who lived on Irene road, near Mayfield, would be called as he owned a team of horses and for a fee, would pull the unhappy motorist out.

The Marnetts lived in the second house from Mayfield road at the time. The first house had been torn down, but the Marnett house still stands. It originally had a barn behind where the horses were kept. This house is on the west side of Irene and backs up to city hall. (Historian's note.... this house is now long gone.)

In the third house from Mayfield lived Mrs. Comer, who was Mrs. Marnett's mother. She was a seer and fortune teller and people came from Cleveland and all over to have their fortunes told and to get her advice.

Across the street and up on the bluff lived Mr. Rothgery, who I believe served as fire chief for a time. Lyndhurst had a volunteer fire department then and when a fire was reported to the town hall, a siren atop the building would be sounded by the custodian, which could be heard all over Lyndhurst and beyond.

Between Irene and Churchill on Mayfield Road, there were four or five stores, which are still there. There was a drugstore, an A&P, a hardware store, and later the Oasis bar. The drugstore was run by a man named Victor Germ, who was also the postmaster and the post office was in the rear of the drugstore. There was a piano back there and Victor was an accomplished pianist. He played for the movies, every Friday night, which were held in the auditorium of the Richmond Road School. Everyone in town would come down, as it was the only show in town.

The north end of Irene ran into the woods where Ridgebury Road is today. It was originally a beech and maple forest and Roy Hawthorne and George Silsby used to run a sugarbush there, every spring.

One last thought, the summer after we moved to Irene, there was scourge of grasshoppers. They were so thick you stepped on them while walking down to Mayfield Road. The empty lots were full of four-foot high, white clover and the grasshoppers loved it.

Your Lyndhurst Municipal Court Update from Judge Dominic J. Coletta

Judge Dominic Coletta

On behalf of the Lyndhurst Municipal Court, I want to share with you how the Court has been operating during the current COVID-19 pandemic.

While the pandemic demanded numerous changes in procedure, the Court has remained open while complying with the directives of Governor Mike DeWine and the Supreme Court of Ohio. The Court has limited in-person proceedings to protect the public and its employees while maintaining essential court functions.

The Court continues to utilize technology to improve services to the public. In February 2020, prior to the pandemic, the Court implemented its new case management system, which allows for electronic filing as well as offers the ability to make payments online. This new technology has proven critical to the Court's operations during the pandemic.

Last year, the Court was awarded a grant of more than $60,000 from the Ohio Supreme Court to enhance its video conferencing capabilities and its ability to conduct hearings remotely. Seven video conferencing devices – three at the Court and one each at four local jails – were installed last May. Since then, the Court has been able to seamlessly conduct video hearings with inmates in jails using these new video conferencing devices. Essentially all hearings, including arraignments, change of plea hearings, and sentencings, have been conducted remotely during the pandemic. These new procedures have permitted the Court to continue to conduct hearings while significantly reducing the number of individuals that come into the courthouse on a daily basis.

The Court also received a grant from The Ohio Department of Public Safety to implement electronic citation (e-citation) software that will allow the Court to receive traffic citations electronically from its six municipalities and The Ohio State Highway Patrol rather than requiring paper copies to be personally delivered to the Court. E-citations also reduce the time it takes for an officer to issue a citation. This improves officer safety by reducing the time officers are exposed to oncoming traffic while issuing a citation. This software will also transfer all the data from the citation (i.e., name, address, license plate number, etc.) from the traffic ticket directly into the Court's case management software, eliminating the need for manual input.

In September the Court launched its updated website; www.lyndhurstmunicipalcourt.org. The website is now much more user and mobile-friendly allowing individuals to pay fines, court costs and make restitution online. The website also provides several downloadable forms and motions to be easily utilized by the public.

Another initiative the Court will be implementing is a new text message notification system in April 2021. The system will send text reminders to individuals scheduled to appear for hearings or probation appointments. The Court expects this new text notification system to improve court appearance rates, decrease bench warrants along with the collateral consequences those warrants have on defendants.

The Court has received positive feedback regarding its revised procedures from prosecutors, defense attorneys, and defendants. Remote proceedings eliminate travel time for the parties and the need for individuals to miss work to appear in court. The Court will look to continue remote proceedings, where practical, post-pandemic.

In spite of the obstacles presented by the pandemic, the Court processed 3,680 traffic cases, 743 criminal cases, and 2,019 civil cases for a total of 6,442 cases in 2020. The Court continued to monitor probationers and refer them to community providers for treatment and counseling.

In 2020, the Court continued to operate efficiently and in an economically responsible fashion. For the third straight year, the Court reduced its total expenditures while enhancing the use of technology and improving services to the public.

The Court looks forward to emerging from this pandemic operating more safely and efficiently than ever. With the advent of remote pretrials and hearings, individuals under the Court's jurisdiction are making fewer in-court appearances in order to resolve their cases.

Community Partnership on Aging

The COVID-19 Pandemic brought to light the importance of staying connected using our computers and smart devices. CPA, along with many other agencies and businesses, moved to a virtual platform to continue to deliver services and resources. However, we learned that for many of our residents, lack of access to the internet resulted in isolation, loneliness and disconnection.

CPA sought to remedy this situation by creating a pilot program, CPA Connects2U, funded by the McGregor Foundation. This is a great opportunity for those who are not connected to receive one of 30 laptops (and internet access if needed) at no cost. In addition, CPA designed a curriculum to teach you how to use your new laptop to reach family and friends, connect to CPA's virtual programming and more.

Here are the program requirements:

- At least 60 years of age; residing in one of our six member cities,
- Annual income of $23,828 or $1986 a month,
- Do not currently own a computer or tablet, and
- Commitment to complete training curriculum.

Extra consideration will be given to those who live alone. Participants will be expected to attend all sessions of the training program, participate in a virtual health and wellness program (six-eight weeks) and complete pre- and post-evaluations and surveys. The program will launch this June. If you, or someone you know, might be eligible and interested, please reach out to Rebekah Colours at 216.291.3902. Please note that Rebekah is part time so allow her a few days to return your call.

On another note, studies show that COVID-19 vaccines are effective at keeping you from getting COVID-19. Getting a COVID-19 vaccine will also help keep you from getting seriously ill even if you do get COVID-19. Of course, people who have been fully vaccinated against COVID-19 should keep taking precautions in public places, like wearing a mask, staying 6 feet apart from others, avoiding crowds and poorly ventilated spaces, and washing your hands often. Information about the vaccines, including myths and facts, is available on the CDC site (<http://cdc.gov/coronavirus>) and The State of Ohio Department of Health site (<https://coronavirus.ohio.gov>).

The availability of vaccines should be improving by the time you receive this magazine. The State of Ohio launched a site that can help you find an appointment: <https://gettheshot.coronavirus.ohio.gov> or by phone at 1-833-4-ASK-ODH. You can also call United Way's 211 for assistance in scheduling an appointment. Questions? Call our social work team at 440.442.2628.

Display your American Flag Properly and with Pride!

It is the universal custom to display the American Flag only from sunrise to sunset on buildings and on stationery flagstaffs in the open. The Flag may be displayed 24 hours a day if properly illuminated during the hours of darkness. When displayed without a flagstaff the stars should be on the upper left.

The American Flag should not be displayed if it is worn or frayed. Any Flag, when it is in such condition that it is no longer a fitting emblem for display, should be destroyed in a dignified way. Please bring any damaged or unusable flags to our City Service Department and they will be delivered to our local V.F.W., Boy Scouts or other agency for proper disposal.

Remember: Flag Day is June 14!

The Lyndhurst Service Department

Dare we say it? Weather is breaking and many residents have begun spring cleaning both inside and out so here are some friendly reminders:

1. The 2021 yard waste collection program has already begun. Place all yard waste in brown paper yard waste bags or designated yard waste cans. Leaves must be contained in paper bags or yard waste cans. Leaves are only vacuum collected in the fall! Loose leaves will not be collected.
2. You can pick up "Yard Waste Only" stickers at the Service Department office during regular working hours (Monday through Friday 7 a.m. – 3 p.m.) Put these stickers on your privately purchased 40-gallon cans and place at the curb for your weekly collection day.
3. Please remember do not place your city containers, yard waste or brush at the curb prior to 5:00 p.m. the day before your scheduled collection (ORD. 951.02).
4. When circumstances arise, such as scheduling large appliances or carpeting or other large amounts of trash please call to schedule a large item or large rubbish collection - please notify us at least the day before and we will provide a special pickup (Monday through Friday) call us at 440.473.5100.
5. Please also remember all rubbish, recycling and yard waste must be placed at the curb by 7:00 a.m. your day of collection and all receptacles removed from the tree lawn that same day. We receive many complaints about receptacles placed out too early or left out past collection day.

With your continued cooperation, we will keep Lyndhurst beautiful and a place all residents love to call home.

What's the News on Deer?

Residents may have read that the City commissioned a deer count be done by the U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA). The result of this effort indicates there were 323 deer in the City at the time of the count. 323 is a big number and, when one looks at it on a per-square mile basis of 73 deer per square mile it sheds light on why we receive such a huge number of deer complaint calls. Please know that The City of Lyndhurst will continue to work with the Ohio Department of Natural Resources (ODNR), as we have for the past six years, to have the most effective wildlife management program possible.

This season's program, in partnership with our residents, the ODNR and USDA was successful, but we still have a high number of deer in our community. Our program has focused on City properties and certain private properties that have enough area to be worked safely.
